

Many disabled people may be waiting for NHS healthcare. They may wait a long time and waiting can make them more unwell.

The NHS has a long wait list of people needing healthcare.

Many disabled people are waiting to be treated.

Disabled people may have to wait long times to receive help from the NHS.

This is due to disability and access barriers.

Waiting can make disabled people unwell.

Waiting can make it harder to work or do things they enjoy.